

THE WEEKLY CLARION.

Inducements to Subscribers.
We observe that several of our contemporaries are holding out extraordinary inducements to subscribers, and what they severally claim as the best paper in the State, equally anxious to swell their circulation list on equally as liberal and therefore propose to publish a Weekly edition from date to date of January, 1868, for $1.00 and our Daily edition, for $1.00 per period for ten dollars, and time to subscribe.

The United States Circuit Court yesterday morning, and the afternoon until May 10th, business in the District Court was taken up this morning.

THE PUBLIC ACTS.
The session of the Legislature published in the Clarion are not to be published until after the January session.

brethren of the press to transfer these laws to their columns, in order that the public generally may be informed.

The Legislature of Mississippi has passed a bill to furnish every man with an artificial limb.—Ex.

The bill is not yet a law. It passed the House of Representatives unanimously, but will remain among the "unfinished business" of the Senate until the January session, when it will no doubt become a law.

General Lee accepts the notes of all young men who wish to become students at Washington College, and are unable to pay the fees, believing that all who accept their education under such circumstances will pay when able.

NEW ORLEANS RAILROAD.—We see a notice in the New Orleans papers from General Beauregard, to the effect that the Company is now prepared, on application to the Treasurer, No. 44 Carondelet street, to issue its second mortgage bonds for the unpaid matured coupons of its first mortgage bonds in accordance with the agreement made by the commission in London. As the January coupon will be punctually paid, it is desirable that the above exchange be made without unnecessary delay.

NEW COTTON REGULATIONS.—The Commissioners of Internal Revenue have issued additional regulations concerning transportation in bond. The bond may be given by the consignee in this district, and transmitted to the collector of producer's district, and being properly filled, the Assessor will issue permits based upon weights as reported by owner. Any inaccuracy in such weights may be corrected by certificate of the weigher in the consignee's district. This dispenses with weighing by government officials before shipping. The old regulations remain in force, and will be observed by the shipper.

FACTIOUS.—The Franklin Journal, published at Meadville, in this State, has the following important "specials" from Jackson:

JACKSON, Oct. 26.—11.37 A. M.—Both Houses of the Legislature have passed with singular unanimity, "An act to authorize the keeping of a public ferry across Dog river, and for other purposes." Immense enthusiasm prevails! It is confidently expected the bill will meet the approval of His Excellency the Governor.

TWENTY MINUTES LATER.—11.57 A. M. The painful suspense caused by a rumor that the Governor would veto the bill on account of the name of the river, has been relieved by assurances from those high in authority that His Excellency would certainly approve the bill, thus waiving his objections to the name. Great rejoicing.

NOTICE.
11.25 P. M. PRECIPITOUS.—The special joint committee of both houses have just perfected a bill of vast interest to the State at large, the character of which has not yet transpired.

LATER.—MIDNIGHT.—The joint select committee have, through their chairman, reported "An act entitled an act to change the name of Mary Ann Smith to Mary Ann Smythe."

FIVE MINUTES LATER.—Your reporter has this moment been credibly informed that a resolution has been introduced into the House instructing the committee on Internal Improvements to prepare "An act to make Chucky river as broad as it is long." There appears to be a general disposition among the members to pass some such act, and it is thought that the able members of this committee will succeed in framing the bill so as to avoid questions that might be raised as to its constitutionality.

The Majority of Louisville is in dispute. Tompsett, who was elected Mayor by the people, was subsequently deposed by the Board of Aldermen, and Lithgow chosen at a subsequent election. The Court of Common Pleas to which the question was submitted, has declared in favor of Lithgow. Tompsett will carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

WOULD call the attention of undertakers, and the public, to their large variety of Hearse of the most approved patterns, and of the finest finish—convenient for elegance, utility and durability.

We are constantly improving the style and construction of our Hearse, and our "New Plain Case," patented December 12, 1865, combines all the most recent and valuable improvements, and is more complete than any Burial case ever before invented.

Our Metallic Burial Case, in its simplicity of design, and its freedom from all associations of grief, is unsurpassed. It is almost entirely covered by the best polished plate glass. Its finish is that of the finest rosewood. The Ornamental Case, with its heavy and elaborately wrought embossed ornaments, their bright silver contrasting with the dark polished ground work, is of striking and appropriate elegance.

Over wooden coffins, these Burial Cases and Caskets possess many important advantages. They protect from water, vermin, and other insects, answering for generations every necessary purpose of a vault. Removal from the original place of burial—should it ever be desired—can easily be accomplished. Bells can be prepared for days or weeks, awaiting the arrival of absent friends. Removal to any part of the globe, at any season of the year, is entirely practicable. The surest safeguard is effected against contagious diseases.

Directions accompany every Burial Case and Casket, in reference to closing, and should be strictly followed. Address: CRANE, BREED & CO., 90 Magazine St., N. O.

SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY SERIES.
THE Subscribers take great pleasure in announcing the annexed list of important and valuable Text-books for Schools and Universities, prepared by distinguished scholars and friends of Education in the South.

The want of good books adapted to the use of Southern Schools has long been felt. Leading Teachers in the South admit that a new era in Educational Interests has opened, making an imperative call for the works now in course of preparation. The gentlemen who have undertaken to meet this demand, have for several years made the subject treated a special study, and are recognized as among the first scholars of the country. Other important works are projected, and will shortly be announced. The publishers are confident that this series will be cordially greeted, as an important step in the advancement of the Educational Interests of the South.

HIGHARDSON & CO., Publishers, August, 1866. 540 Broadway, N. Y.

Southern School Readers:

A Series of Readers Designed for Southern Schools and Families.

IN which Southern Interests, Employment, Literature, and History, will be distinctively recognized and represented. The Series has been prepared by an experienced Educator, and carefully revised by George F. Holmes, LL. D., Professor of History and General Literature in the University of Virginia. The Illustrations have been furnished by Southern Artists. The Series will consist of seven volumes, as follows:

The Southern Pictorial Primer, or First Reader, Retail Price, 25 cts. The Southern Elementary Speller, 25 cts. The Southern Pictorial Second Reader, 42 cts. The Southern Pictorial Third Reader, 50 cts. The Southern Pictorial Fourth Reader, 50 cts. The Southern Fifth Reader, 50 cts. The Southern Speaker.

An Educational series of Readers, in which the productions of Southern Intellect, the eloquence of Southern Statesmen, shall have full and ample representation, has long been a want in Southern Schools and Families. The series now in press has been projected with a hope of fully supplying this want, to the entire satisfaction of Southern Teachers and Parents.

In all particulars, this series will be as full, complete, properly graduated, and, in pictorial and mechanical features, as attractive as any now before the public. The subjects have been selected with a view to please the fancy and excite the interest of the child; the lessons have been arranged so as to lead the pupil on, step by step, in easy gradations, and a method has been adopted which will insure the thorough training of the pupil in the correct principles of Articulation, Pronunciation, Emphasis, Inflection, &c.

The volumes will be beautifully illustrated, printed on superior paper, in good type, and tastefully bound. No pains nor expense will be spared to make the Series in every respect pleasing to Southern Families, and Schools, and worthy of their patronage: it will be distinctively their Series.

Among the Many Advantages Claimed for this series are the following:

1st. TO TEACHERS.—By the general adoption of these books throughout the country, the Teacher will be saved all the annoyance and inconvenience arising from the eclectic character given to the mind of pupils, who have in different schools been variously instructed, and made to learn from unworthy text-books, imbibed ideas which need to be eradicated.

The advantage of such a uniform system will also be appreciated by the Teacher, whenever he has occasion to change his residence, and enter upon the duties of his profession in another school. His efficiency will necessarily be greatly promoted by his familiarity with the course of study to be pursued, while the facility afforded for ascertaining the standing of each new pupil, and assigning him his proper position, will be most obvious.

2d. TO THE PUPIL.—One of the greatest discouragements to a child, in the labor requisite for the acquirement of a good education, arises from the change of school and teachers, which often becomes necessary. With every removal he is almost sure to be thrown back in his studies, and obliged to retraverse much of the ground already passed over. Thus by the consequent and inevitable loss of interest and recreation, his advancement is seriously hindered. A change of teachers, or a transfer from one school to another, may be a matter of satisfaction and advantage to a child, if this does not also involve the loss of work attained by past diligence and application to study.

3d. TO THE PARENT.—All other considerations aside (such as the difficulty of investigating the character of the various text-books, and the undesirable influence of some now in use, &c., &c.), there are but few parents who would fail to welcome a system of instruction, which, being in all other points acceptable, will relieve their selves of an endless variety of discarded school-books, and the purchase of an equally endless demand upon it.

4th. TO THE TRADE.—All Booksellers are agreed that much of the profit in this department of their business disappears in the unavoidable accumulation of "dead stock," consequent upon the great variety of books in use, and the ever-changing fancy of those whose demands, superfluous, are to be supplied. The new plan proposed will relieve the trade of such annoyance and loss, and make accuracy of estimate, respecting the probable supply, possible in this branch as in others; thereby rescuing from idleness, and possible loss, quite an item of capital.

ENDORSEMENTS:
The following resolutions were adopted by the Mississippi Legislature on the 27th ult.:

BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES: Resolved, That the Southern University Series, prepared under the supervision of Prof. GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL. D., of the University of Virginia, be recommended to Teachers throughout the State for adoption in all Schools and Academies.

BY THE SENATE: Resolved, That the Series published by Richardson, be recommended to Teachers of this State. Schools be requested to send to Teachers in some of their branches.
